Comparing Texts The Withered Arm

Both of these texts were written before 1914 by two different people. Thomas Hardy wrote 'The withered arm' and W.W. Jacobs wrote 'A monkey's paw'. The withered arm is a short story about a milkmaid who had an affair with a high class farmer. When the farmer gets a new wife, the milkmaid becomes jealous.

Compare and Contrast A Withered Arm by Thomas Hardy ...

In this essay I am comparing and contrasting two stories: "The Withered Arm" by Thomas Hardy and "Indian Camp" by Ernest Hemingway. I shall be concentrating primarily on the structure and language of both novels. "The Withered Arm" was written in 1888, whereas "Indian Camp" is post twentieth century, written in 1946.

The Withered Arm. I A Lorn Milkmaid It was an eighty-cow dairy, and the troop of milkers, regular and supernumerary, were all at work; for, though the time of year was as yet but early April, the feed lay entirely in water-meadows, and the cows were 'in full pail'. The hour was about six in the evening, and three-fourths of the large, red ...

A south-east England setting, in the 1800's, is the short story, 'The Withered Arm' by T.Hardy. This story involves four lives, where they all end up alienated and isolated, leaving them feeling alone. They are also isolated as they live in a small village far apart from the town or other villages called Holmstoke.

The Scripture reading today is found in Matthew chapter 12 verses 9 through 14, and I want to read, not only this passage but the parallel account the Gospel of Mark. There is also a parallel account in the Gospel of Luke. This is one of the incidents, the incident of the man with the withered hand, in which each of the synoptic gospels have an account.
